

Master Task Order - Training Data Preparation

1. Purpose of This Assignment

We are preparing sample matter data to test a new law firm email workflow.

A separate document explains the workflow in detail.

At a high level, the workflow will receive emails one at a time and try to:

1. Identify the correct client and matter.
2. Save the email in the correct location.
3. Review the email and any attachments.
4. Compare the new information with the information already known about the matter.
5. Add the new information to the matter's Case Brain.
6. Update other matter information when needed.

Your job is to prepare the sample emails and documents that will be used to test this workflow.

2. Starting Information

You will be given an Excel workbook containing the starting information for each sample matter.

The workbook includes:

- Client ID
- Matter ID
- Client name
- Matter name
- Practice area
- Matter type
- Short matter description
- Current matter state
- Open issues
- Tasks and next steps
- People involved in the matter
- Initial Case Brain entries

This information represents what the law firm knows at the beginning of the matter, shortly after the intake stage.
