Matter Description

Harbor Spirits Holdings LLC is considering the purchase of substantially all assets of Riverside Liquors, an operating retail liquor store in Montclair, New Jersey.

Riverside Liquors operates from leased premises. The seller does not own the building.

The transaction is expected to be structured as an asset purchase rather than a purchase of Riverside Liquors LLC itself.

Information Known at the Start

The client reports that the parties have discussed a purchase price of approximately $1.15 million.

The final price may depend on how inventory is treated.

The client expects the purchase to include:

- Furniture.
- Fixtures.
- Equipment.
- Trade name.
- Goodwill.
- Certain inventory.

The client does not want to assume unknown seller liabilities.

The store operates from leased premises.

The existing lease has not yet been reviewed by the attorney.

The liquor license will need to be addressed as part of the transaction.

No final asset purchase agreement has been signed.

Current Open Issues

- Exact assets being purchased.
- Treatment and valuation of inventory.
- Liabilities, if any, being assumed by Buyer.
- Existing premises lease.
- Whether the landlord will allow assignment of the lease or require a new lease.
- Landlord consent.
- Liquor-license transfer.
- Employees.
- Closing timing.
- Purchase agreement terms.

3. Step 1 - Create the Full Matter Timeline

The first task is to have ChatGPT or Claude create the planned timeline for the matter.

This timeline will later be used to create the emails. Do not ask it to draft the emails yet.

Prompt 1 - Create Matter Timeline

Copy and paste the following prompt into ChatGPT or Claude:

You are helping prepare sample data for a law firm internal software test.

I will give you the starting facts for a fictional legal matter.

Your job is to create a realistic step-by-step timeline showing how the legal matter develops from the beginning through signing and closing.

Do not draft any emails yet.

The matter is an asset purchase of an operating liquor store in New Jersey.

[PASTE THE "STARTING MATTER INFORMATION" SECTION ABOVE.]

Create a numbered timeline of approximately 25 to 35 events.

The timeline should feel like a normal small-business acquisition handled by a law firm.

Include events involving:

- Client communications.
- Communications with Seller's attorney.
- Receipt and review of the existing lease.
- Landlord involvement.
- Liquor-license issues.
- Due diligence.
- Asset Purchase Agreement drafts.
- Buyer comments and redlines.
- Seller revisions.
- Client instructions.
- Purchase price and inventory issues.
- Assumed and excluded liabilities.
- Employees.
- Closing timing.
- Closing documents.
- Final agreement.
- Closing.

Do not make every event a major legal issue. Include some normal small steps, document requests, follow-ups, and confirmations.

Make sure each event follows logically from the event before it.

For each numbered event, provide only: 1. Approximate date. 2. Who is involved. 3. What happens. 4. Whether a document or attachment is involved. 5. Name of the document, if any.

Do not write the emails.

Do not create facts that would normally not be known yet.

Do not assume the seller owns the property. The business operates from leased premises.

Keep the facts consistent throughout the timeline.

What to Save

Save the output as: Matter 1 - Full Timeline

4. Step 2 - Turn the Timeline Into an Email Plan

After saving the timeline, use it to create the email-by-email plan.

The goal of this step is to decide exactly which emails will exist. Do not draft the actual email text yet.

Prompt 2 - Create Email Plan

Use the Matter 1 timeline below to create a detailed email plan.

[PASTE THE TIMELINE CREATED IN STEP 1.]

Also use these starting facts:

[PASTE THE STARTING MATTER INFORMATION.]

Create the email plan in chronological order.

The plan should include enough emails to make the matter feel real.

Not every event needs only one email. Some events may require several emails.

Include a reasonable mix of client-to-attorney, attorney-to-client, attorney-to-opposing-counsel, opposing-counsel-to-attorney, third-party, internal law firm, short follow-up, document transmittal, important update, small update, and no-major-update emails.

For every email, provide: Email Number; Date; From; To; CC, if any; Subject; one or two sentences explaining what the email should say; whether there is an attachment; exact attachment name, if any.

Use sequential numbers starting with Email 001.

Do not draft the actual email text.

Do not include facts in an email before those facts would normally become known.

Keep the full email plan consistent with the matter timeline.

What to Save

Save the output as: Matter 1 - Email Plan

5. Step 3 - Create Emails in Small Groups

Do not create all emails at once. Create them in groups of five, for example: Emails 001-005, 006-010, 011-015, and so on.

Prompt 3 - Draft Email Group

You are drafting sample law firm emails for software testing.

Use only the information provided below.

Starting Matter Information:

[PASTE THE STARTING MATTER INFORMATION.]

Full Matter Timeline:

[PASTE THE FULL TIMELINE.]

Approved Email Plan:

[PASTE THE EMAIL PLAN.]

Emails Already Created:

[PASTE A SHORT LIST OR COPY OF THE PRIOR EMAILS, IF ANY.]

Now draft only Emails [INSERT NUMBERS, FOR EXAMPLE 001 THROUGH 005].

Follow the approved email plan exactly.

For each email, provide: Email number; Date; From; To; CC; Subject; Full email body; Attachment name, if any.

Writing rules:

- Write like real people sending normal business and legal emails.
- Keep most emails short or medium length.
- Do not make every email formal.
- Client emails may be short and direct.
- Attorney emails should be clear and professional.
- Opposing counsel emails should sound like normal lawyer-to-lawyer emails.
- Short receipt, scheduling, and simple document-transmittal emails are appropriate where the plan calls for them.
- Do not repeat the full history of the matter in every email.
- Do not add new facts that are not in the timeline or email plan.
- Do not refer to information that has not yet been received.
- Keep names, dates, prices, and other facts consistent.
- If an email says a document is attached, use the exact attachment name listed in the email plan.

Draft only the requested emails. Do not draft future emails.

6. Step 4 - Create the Attachments

After the emails are drafted, prepare the attachments.

Do not ask ChatGPT or Claude to create every attachment at once. Prepare one document or one related group of documents at a time.

Common attachments for this matter may include:

- Letter of Intent.
- Existing premises lease.
- Equipment list.
- Inventory information.
- Liquor-license information.
- Due-diligence documents.
- Asset Purchase Agreement - First Draft.
- Buyer Redline.
- Seller Revised Draft.
- Closing checklist.
- Bill of Sale.
- Assignment and Assumption Agreement.
- Final Asset Purchase Agreement.

Prompt 4 - Create Attachment

You are preparing a fictional legal document for software testing.

The document must match the email history and matter facts provided below.

Starting Matter Information:

[PASTE STARTING MATTER INFORMATION.]

Relevant Timeline Events:

[PASTE ONLY THE TIMELINE EVENTS RELATING TO THIS DOCUMENT.]

Relevant Emails:

[PASTE THE EMAILS THAT DISCUSS THIS DOCUMENT.]

Create the following document:

[INSERT DOCUMENT NAME]

The document should look like a realistic document that could be used in this type of transaction.

Do not add facts that conflict with the matter history.

If this is a later draft of an earlier document, preserve the earlier terms except for the specific changes discussed in the emails.

Make sure any changes described in the emails actually appear in the document.

Do not add unnecessary legal provisions only to make the document longer.

The main goal is consistency with the email history.

7. Step 5 - Check the Completed Matter

After all emails and attachments are prepared, use ChatGPT or Claude to check the full matter.

Prompt 5 - Final Consistency Check

Review the sample matter below for errors.

I am testing a law firm email workflow, so consistency is very important.

Review: 1. Starting Matter Information. 2. Matter Timeline. 3. Email Plan. 4. All prepared emails. 5. List of attachments and their contents.

Check for: names changing; incorrect email addresses; dates out of order; different purchase prices appearing without explanation; documents being discussed before they were received; later drafts appearing before earlier drafts; lease facts changing without explanation; liquor-license facts changing without explanation; an email saying something is attached when no attachment exists; attachments that do not match what the email says; Buyer and Seller positions being mixed up; an issue being described as resolved and later treated as unresolved without explanation; closing occurring before required earlier steps; any other clear factual or timing conflict.

Do not rewrite the matter.

Provide only a numbered list of problems found.

For each problem, identify: Email or document involved; What is wrong; What should be corrected.

If there are no problems, say: "No material consistency issues found."

8. Order to Follow

1. Create and save the full Matter Timeline.
2. Create and save the Email Plan.
3. Draft Emails 001-005.
4. Draft the next group of five emails.
5. Continue until all emails are complete.
6. Create each required attachment.
7. Run the Final Consistency Check.
8. Correct any problems found.
9. Save the completed Matter 1 files in the Matter 1 folder.

Do not start Matter 2 until Matter 1 has been completed and reviewed.
